MINUTES OF THE APRIL 29th, 2019, GENERAL MEETING

By Charles Maynard, Secretary

Susan Teich, Vice President, called the Meeting to order at 6:35 p.m.

Per her request, the Minutes of the last Quarterly Meeting on January 28th were approved.

She then introduced John Choate, who stepped in for our scheduled speaker hospitalized with a sudden illness. John, a proud graduate of Texas A&M University, gave a fascinating presentation on the great grandfather and grandfather of his wife and former board member, Calanne: Edward Hopkins (E.H.) Cushing and his son, Edward Benjamin (E.B.) Cushing, who in 1877 matriculated at the then Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas, founded just a year earlier.

E.H. Cushing, a Vermont native and an 1850 alumnus of Dartmouth College, was a migrant to Texas, arriving in Galveston shortly after graduating where he taught for one year at a Presbyterian Church there. He moved along to teaching positions in Columbia and Bryan, Texas, and became a journalist, writing first for the Democrat Planter published in Columbia and the Weekly Telegraph in Houston until 1862. He owned newspapers and other businesses. E.B.'s enrollment at A&M ended in 1879 owing to his father's untimely death forcing him to return home and to support his family. He went to work for and had a long and significant career at Southern Pacific Railway, eventually becoming the Superintendent of Maintenance and Way for the Sunset Line between New Orleans and El Paso.

But his attachment to A&M persisted and he eventually received his degree in civil engineering from A&M College in 1899, joined the board in 1912 and played a crucial role in preserving the school as an independent institution by personally guaranteeing the school's debts when its existence was in jeopardy following a catastrophic fire that destroyed the old main building and led to calls that it be relocated to and combined with the University of Texas. He received a commission, served on the staff of General

John Pershing and was awarded the Croix de Guerre for his service in the first world war. On his death, he bequeathed his collection of engineering books to A&M and today the University library bears his name.

It was, of course, mention of his commitment to the establishment of an official library at A&M College that produced the warmest round of applause from those in attendance.

Respectfully submitted,

Charles Maynard, Secretary

HMRC Celebrates Hispanic Heritage Month with Música!

Each fall, HMRC celebrates Hispanic Heritage Month, the 30-day period from September 15th to October 15th. (Hispanic Heritage Month starts on September 15th is to commemorate independence of several Latin American countries including Costa Rica, El Salvador, Guatemala, Honduras, Mexico and Nicaragua.)

This year, we invite you to experience the sights and sounds of Houston's Latino music history with our exhibit: Música! A History of Hispanic Sounds in Houston. From the heydays of the Shamrock Hotel to nights at the Pan American, this exhibit will feature archival photographs, posters, and oral histories that reflect a diverse and significant contribution to Houston music.

Among the featured musicians in this exhibit is Patricio Gutierrez (1896-1985). Patricio was born in San Antonio, but moved to Houston with his family at an early age. In his youth, he was the organist at Holy Rosary Catholic Church and First Presbyterian Church. He later played piano and French horn with the early Houston Symphony Orchestra, and he was one of its first soloists.

Patricio was a member of the Houston Professional Musicians Association, Local 65 for most of his life. When he joined this union in 1907, he was their youngest working member and, at his death, the oldest. He played chamber music at the Brazos, Rice, and Lamar Hotels, and even at the movies. In his own words:

"I used to play silent movies, you know? I used to play between the movies, they had a little show. Amateur show. And I was a pianist, see? But that was a union job for me. ...But I started playing in the movie house ...And I was getting $18 a week, boy, and I was in heaven! Eighteen dollars. For 25 cents, I could go and get myself a treat ..." [1]

Patricio came from a musically talented family. His father, Jesus, was a bassist, and his brother, Fred, played violin in the Houston Symphony. His brother Joe played clarinet, and his Uncle Joe played the trombone. Patricio recalls lessons with his father: "My daddy used to tell me when he played violin, 'I'm going to play, I'm the leader. Watch me, what I do. Play the way I want you to learn.' ...He'd slow down the tempo when it got there, and like accelerate when it got there, you'd listen. So sure enough, he would--he'd do something and bingo, he had to have it recorded. This is --with his little bow, he hits me in the head, 'You got to listen!' So that's my training." [2]

Patricio's wife, Edith Gutierrez, taught piano in Houston for many years and together founded Greenbriar Music Studios. His stepdaughter, Pauline Oliveros, is a renowned composer and accordionist.

Hispanics have contributed to the Houston music scene in every genre and every decade. Patricio Gutierrez represents one of the early Mexican American musicians who played a significant role in the classical and jazz music scenes in Houston. Visit our fall Música! exhibit to learn more about Patricio and the significant history of Hispanic musicians in the Bayou City.

WHAT OUR FRIENDS ARE DOING

Please contact Jeff Lindemann, editor of the FTxR newsletter Dispatch, at <lindemann@SBCglobal.net> with information about your volunteer service at the HMRC and about projects you are working on that utilize HMRC resources.

FRIENDS OF THE TEXAS ROOM POLICIES

The FTxR policies relate to the Houston Metropolitan Research Center which includes the Collections of the Archives and Manuscripts Department, the Texas and Local History Department, and the Special Collections Department of the Houston Public Library.

A. Contributions

From time to time, the Friends of the Texas Room will purchase and contribute to the Houston Metropolitan Research Center of the Houston Public Library items that will enrich and enhance the above-named collections and ensure their preservation.

All such contributions will be purchased by the Friends directly and then given to the Library with specific stipulations as to how such contributions are to be used by the Library to enhance and ensure the preservation of the HMRC collections.

The Friends will give no money directly to the Library.

The Friends will not buy expendable supplies for the Library.

The Friends will not fund Library personnel.

B. Relationship to Administration and Staff

The Friends of the Texas Room is not to be involved in the administrative or employee actions of the Center, except that the Friends can question policies which, in its opinion, negatively impact the ability of the Center to provide service to the public.

CULTURAL MATCHING GIFTS

Are you or your spouse working for or retired from a corporation which makes cultural matching grants or volunteer involvement awards if you give to or do volunteer work for a cultural institution?

Will your employer match your gifts to cultural institutions that qualify under Section 501(c) (3) of the Internal Revenue Service Code?

The Friends of the Texas Room has such a qualification. Send your corporation's cultural matching funds form with your check for membership in FTxR. If you volunteer your time as an officer of FTxR or in the Texas Room or HMRC, keep track of your hours and turn them in to your corporation so that the FTxR may obtain a grant from your corporation's program. This is "found money" for FTxR and can be used towards making a difference to the Texas Room and HMRC.
