THE PRESIDENT'S COLUMN

Dear Friends,

Our up-coming program on the Shamrock Hotel brings to mind the impact of volunteers both in our own organization and in the community at large. The Shamrock Hotel opened with the wildest, most extravagant party in the history of Houston. Its demolition in the 1980s galvanized the fledgling preservation community to organize to prevent further destruction of Houston's historic buildings. Volunteers who felt passionately about preserving Houston's past have made all the difference.

The same can be said of the Friends of the Texas Room, which was organized to protect Houston's written and photographic history. Our members assist the HMRC staff at the library in cataloging collections and in giving tours of the newly restored Julia Ideson Building. Some of these members are retired from companies that make donations to non-profit organizations based on the number of volunteer hours their retirees spend at those organizations. Most notably, George Werner and Dorothy Johnson, both retired from Exxon-Mobil, have designated the FTxR to receive thousands of dollars over the last ten years based on their volunteer work at the HMRC. Since the FTxR is funded entirely from dues and contributions, these grants have made an enormous difference in the support we have been able to give to the HMRC.

Some companies also match donations made by their employees and retirees to non-profits. Most recently FTxR board member, Susan Teich, made a donation which resulted in our receiving a very generous contribution from Conoco Phillips. We are most grateful to Susan, Dorothy, George, and others both for the volunteer hours they have spent and for designating the Friends to benefit from their companies' charitable giving programs.

The HMRC is very much in need of more volunteers. If you have a few hours to spare in your week, you can find no more interesting or gratifying way to spend it than at the HMRC.

Sincerely,

Dorothy Knox Houghton

MINUTES OF THE APRIL 29th, 2013, GENERAL MEETING

Dorothy Knox Houghton, President, called the meeting to order at 7:03 p.m.

Dorothy Knox explained the qualifications for the Julia Ideson Award and asked for entries to be submitted before the June 1st deadline.

A motion was made and passed to dispense with the reading of the minutes of the previous meeting.

Cheri Fossler presented the membership report and encouraged the guests to apply for membership.

Dorothy Knox announced that Dr. Michael Botson is chairman of the nominating committee for directors and officers for 2014.

The next meeting will be held July 29th, 2013, and Jeff Lindemann will speak on the Shamrock Hotel's opening night.

The Friends of the Texas Room DVD is available for purchase.

Dorothy Knox introduced John Nau. He is President and CEO of Silver Eagle Distributors.

Mr. Nau introduced the Nau Center for Texas Cultural Heritage, which will be built downtown in Houston. It will be a visitors' center and an educational venue for the Southeast Texas region. The facility will be operated and managed by Houston First Corporation, while the Nau Center for Texas Cultural Heritage, an independent nonprofit, will oversee all programming.

The Nau Center will not be a museum as he envisions it; it will be a 21st century example of education and inspiration in which guests will explore and experience the culture of the Houston region. It will be located between the George R. Brown Convention Center and Minute Maid Park. It will include

1. A visitor Center for the cultural/heritage tourist
2. A venue which will showcase the region's resources

The George R. Brown Convention Center attracts 7-8 million people a year, and 36 million visitors come to southeast Texas. Tourists to the Houston region fall into three categories: those interested in outdoor activities, those who come to conventions and the heritage/cultural tourists who want to experience the area's culture. This last group is the most likely to spend more time in the area if they are engaged, and they will spend 30% more per day during their stay. Texas is one of the top ten destinations for this group of tourists.

The center will also engage visiting students who are studying Texas history. There will be classrooms and educational, interactive displays and classes.

The center is projected to cost between $46 - 48 million for the exhibits. Construction will begin when 60% of the funds are collected. Mr. Nau is currently seeking the support of foundations and hopes that the Center can open in 2016.

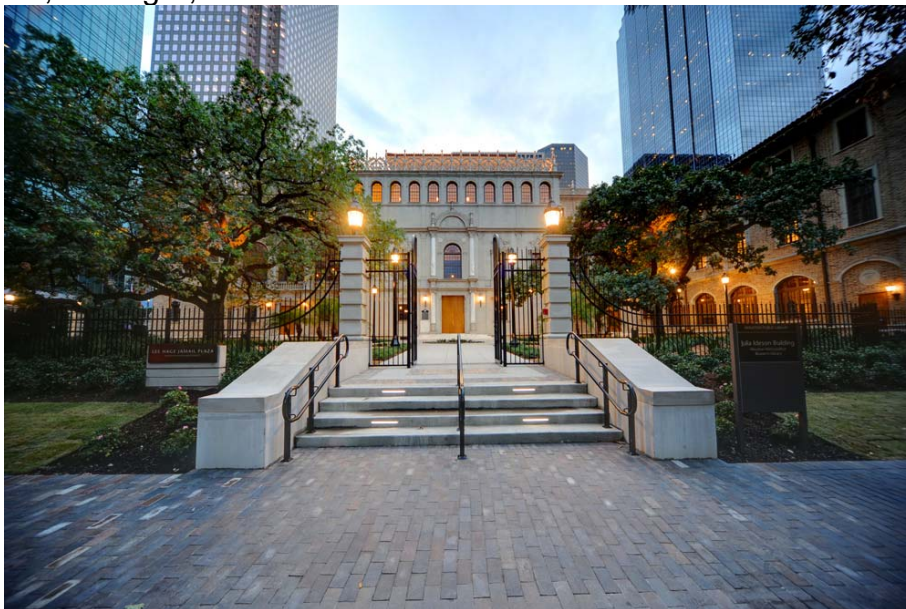

After the conclusion of Mr. Nau's remarks, the meeting was adjourned.

Respectfully submitted,

Kathy Dissen,
Recording Secretary

Current Exhibition

Fine Tuning: Celebrating 100 Years of the Houston Symphony

June 8, 2013 - October 19, 2013

Julia Ideson Building | 550 McKinney St., 77002

A symphony for Houston was the dream of both Miss Ima Hogg and local café orchestra leader Julien Paul Blitz. In 1913 they joined forces to make their dream a reality. Blitz chose the best local musicians for the orchestra and Miss Hogg used her considerable connections in musical and social circles to promote the idea. A June 21 concert at the old Majestic Theatre led to a three-concert series that was undertaken for five seasons. The orchestra disbanded toward the end of World War I, and after several attempts the orchestra was reformed in 1931. Conductors of the greatest tenure include Ernst Hoffmann, Efrem Kurtz, Leopold Stokowski, Sir John Barbirolli, Lawrence Foster, Sergiu Comissiona, Christoph Eschenbach and Hans Graf. In 2013 the Houston Symphony announced as Music Director Designate the young Colombian Andrés Orozco-Estrada. Today's orchestra is an internationally acclaimed ensemble performing almost 300 concerts annually. This exhibition is generously supported by Houston Public Library, Houston Symphony and City of Houston.

- Well-prepared for diverse questions and expressions of interest regarding the history of the Julia Ideson Building and HMRC's various collections.

CULTURAL MATCHING GIFTS

Are you or your spouse working for or retired from a corporation which makes cultural matching grants or volunteer involvement awards if you give to or do volunteer work for a cultural institution?

Will your employer match your gifts to cultural institutions that qualify under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Service Code?

The Friends of the Texas Room has such a qualification. Send your corporation's cultural matching funds form with your check for membership in FTR. If you volunteer your time as an officer of FTR or in the Texas Room or HMRC, keep track of your hours and turn them in to your corporation so that the FTR may obtain a grant from your corporation's program. This is "found money" for FTR and can be used towards making a difference to the Texas Room and HMRC.
